BRAVO! BRAVO! BRAVO!!!!!!

That's what I have to say about your creme moisturizer!!!!!! I am in LOVE!

I won't be suprised if you'll be getting a surge of orders for this product because I just left www.longhairforum.com where I posted a favorable review of this product. I also saw that several others did, too, which piqued the interest of alot of the forum members.

Let me tell you, when I received the moisturizer two days ago I didn't know what to think. I have been on an endless search for a moisturizer for my 2 girls and my hair. That search has left me with a lot of "dud" products and a smaller bank account. I was sick of these moisutrizers (i.e. Pink Oil, Lustrasilk, ORS, even Keracare) leaving our hair stiff with frequent use. Well, immediately after using your moisturizer I noticed such a difference. All three of our hair felt silky, soft, moisturized, not too heavy but not too light (just right) and SHINY. I was also so glad that there wasn't a fragrance. I love scents but some of them annoy me and make me queasy.

I used to use Allways moisturizer and for awhile it was the best thing I could find until something changed. Your moisturizer immediately reminded me of the "good" Allways except (if I remember Allways ingredient list correctly) yours has oil as the second ingredient and Allways had it further down on the list (I think). Allways didn't give my hair sheen like yours At any rate yours is wonderful! I really mean that.

One last thing, I had emailed you regarding your moisturizer and which hair types it was made for. You told me type 2,3, or 4 as long as it's dry but you said the Dew may be better for my "Ananda Lewis" type hair. Well, I'm happy to tell you that the creme works for my 2/3 something hair and is not too heavy. In fact, I prefer more weight and oils than the Dew has. My hair is naturally very wavy and the Dew caused it to poof to much if I used it daily but the creme is heavy enough to tame the waves but not so heavy that I feel like a grease head. I will use both the Dew and Creme and want to tell you I just ordered the largest size creme.

I wish you much success with this product (which I'm sure you'll have) and I pray it will NEVER be discontinued cause you certainly have a customer in me!!!

Signed,
