Where were you Cathy! I would like to see your advertisements everywhere you are a real genius. I started using your products and also purchased your book and the first time your products touched my sick curly hair, unbelievable!, my hair had an instant change, no more dry and brittle hair, my hair has been sick and sad for so long. For me was a miracle happening in front of my eyes, first I thought I was having visions when I looked at the mirror, I put your products on my hair and let my curls dry naturally like I always have, but this time something serious was happening, my curls were bouncing for the first time in my adult life. I don't know how many times I looked at my hair on the mirror that day to make sure that the shiny and healthy hair was actually the sick hair before the treatment. After this first use I let 3 days go by (my hair was still beautiful though) and washed my hair again, I applied all your products again and the same amazing thing happened one more time, I have done this 4 times now since I just recently got your products but only with these few times I had nothing else to proof, it is real, your products in fact healed my hair that fast!, you are not another scam. I am so shocked, maybe that is not the word but imagine to see such a difference only with one application, I have wasted so much money trying to find the best product for my hair and now to know that you had the remedy, I feel I have been terribly cheated by other brands. I have not trimmed my hair in 2 years, nobody told me but I have experienced that cutting the hair will not make it grow, just like you say in your book, you explain it so perfectly all the hair myths in your book and I felt like hitting myself with a wall, I could not see it so well but I was having big doubts about hair trimming. I trimmed my hair 2 years ago like I mentioned before and still my hair is at the same length, it simply grew and broke since then, because every time I combed my hair many many little hairs were in the sink, just like when you cut the ends of the hair, and this happened every day so I could never notice if my hair was growing or not, today only with 4 applications I am not suffering of this like I used, only very few or none I have seen lately, thank you!! Now I know that with the constant use of all your products I am on the right track and I am sure that sooner than what I thought my hair will be very long because moist hair, healthy hair can only grow and grow. I do not have words to describe how thankful I am for finding you while I was surfing the web for some hair moisturizer and some link led me to your page, I read it that day so carefully and some good feeling pushed me to believe in your products and testimonials and all those good advises you give, it just all made sense for the first time to me. I will be buying them forever, please never stop making your products. You mix all the ingredients in a perfect harmony to bring back to life hair with terrible growth problems. I have one less worry and I owe it to you. I still can not believe this has happened to me. Thank you, thank you, thank you!!!!

God bless you Cathy,
