Cathy,

Praise Jah! WOW!!! I can't believe the absolute difference in my hair. I must tell you my story - I have always craved to have long, silky hair. Beautiful hair! I had finally grown my hair to it's longest length (not that long... the very back kissed my the tops of my shoulders) this past summer. I freely admit that in no way do I know how to care for my hair but due to a pregnancy my hair had grown a bit. My husband is a barber and they added a beautician to the shop. I wanted to extend the length of my hair and allow my hair to have a rest. It turns out that this was the biggest mistake I could have made. She gave me a sewn in weave and sent me on my way. I took it out after 2 weeks (I just am NOT a fan of fake hair... I was a first-timer). My hair had matted so badly with the awful weave that my hair had broken off to CHIN-LENGTH. I don't have to tell you how long and hard I cried about that! Well, of course 2 months later (in September) I found your wonderful website and ordered your book from my local Barne's & Noble's and drove down to a beauty shop that actually sells your product. (Thankfully I live near the Northern CA Bay Area). I've been using the Aphogee treatment and I LOVE the fact that we are able to wash our hair so frequently. I have to tell you that my husband loves running his fingers thru my fresh smelling silky hair :) My hair is now the same length it was prior to the weave catastrophe. IN ONLY 3 MONTHS! I can only imagine the fabulous results that I will achieve in 1 year. I truly believe in your system. Jehovah certainly did not punish his beautiful black women with short dry hair - we just don't know how to take care of it due to it's fragility. Thank you for sending this message out to us. I only wish it were more readily available. But rest-assured I am turning every black woman I know on to this hair care program.

P.S: I am enclosing my digi pics to show my progress and will send updates if you would like. Unfortunately I can only enclose a BEFORE shot right now :(an after shot is on it's way to you via snail mail.

P.P.S: The Nioxin Scalp Therapy as a stimulant in combination with your product I think is a great idea...it helps with blood flow stimulation to the scalp. Nothing greasy to prohibit growth!
