Kathy,

My name is Marinisha Dillon, and i've been a customer for almost a year now. Its funny, before I found your website I speant months looking for the answer to why my hair would not grow and how I could fix this problem. I prayed and asked God to show me the answer and the next week I found your site. Now I not only know how to maintain my hair, but I am way more educated about it. I just wanted to say thank you for taking the time out to devote your life to such a sensitive subject for so many sistas. I love the product and since I began using it my hair has made improvements. God really does answer prayers. God Bless you and your business!!!
